Carbon County is 7,897 square miles from the mountains to the deserts. It is known for its rich natural resources, gorgeous mountains, scenic vistas and pristine rivers and streams. There is a lot of ground to cover to take advantage of all the exciting and authentic experiences here. Plan to spend at least five days in Wyoming’s Carbon County, even longer if you can! To help make the most of your time, we have included multi-day itineraries that will allow you to soak in mineral hot springs, visit museums and historic sites, fish, golf, hike, take scenic drives, see wildlife and more. Come to Carbon County and leave the crowds behind.

Historically, Carbon County has been traversed by the Overland Trail, Oregon Trail, Mormon Trail, and both the original route of the Union Pacific Railroad and the Lincoln Highway. Interstate 80 is now the trail of choice for most travelers through the county, although several scenic back roads and byways offer pleasant alternatives.
RAWLINS HISTORY

The city of Rawlins garners it's name from General John A. Rawlins, chief of staff of the US Army. In 1867, General Rawlins traveled to Wyoming to survey land with Grenville M. Dodge, chief engineer of the Union Pacific Railroad. Upon arriving to this area, General Rawlins sent out a team of scouts who found a fresh spring. He declared it "the sweetest water ever tasted" and indicated that the highest honor he could receive would be to have the spring named for him. Rawlins Spring, later shortened to Rawlins, was founded as a division point on the railroad. Rawlins became known as a last stop for water before the long dusty ride across the Great Divide Basin.

The Railroad arrived in Rawlins in 1868, and along with it, gamblers, thieves and gunmen. Tough, rowdy and lawless--saloon brawls were frequent. Sometimes vigilantes took over when the townsfolk felt justice should be immediate. Such was the case for infamous outlaw, George Parrott, also known as Big Nose George. Stop by the Carbon County Museum to see what became of George.

Rawlins' remote location made it a desirable place for the first state penitentiary. Inmates arriving here by train would find escape difficult in the desert. For 80 years, the "Old Pen" housed some of Wyoming's most notorious criminals. The Wyoming Frontier Prison, now a museum, shares their stories.

Rawlins is a nationally recognized, award-winning Main Street Community. As you wander the streets of downtown Rawlins, admire the architecture from 150 years ago and reflect on the serene beauty of this western city.
Best Three Day Itinerary

RAWLINS & SINCLAIR

DAY 1 - TOUR MUSEUMS AND HISTORIC DOWNTOWN RAWLINS

Take an all-day tour that spans 150 years. From the moment explorers and settlers sprawled West to claim lands once inhabited by Native American tribes, Carbon County has been a stronghold of some of Wyoming’s most colorful characters. Experience Rawlins’ rich history through its diverse and interesting collection of museums.

Learn the history of western expansion at the Carbon County Museum. Your “Wild West” adventure begins with fascinating exhibits including a new Union Pacific exhibit, Women’s exhibit, Native American exhibit, Art exhibit, and an “Outlaws” exhibit featuring Big Nose George Parrot. The staff still ring the old Fire Truck bell on request. Open April 1 - Oct. 31: Tuesday - Saturday, 10am to 6pm; Winter hours: Tuesday-Saturday, 10am to 5pm.

Looking for an authentic experience that’s a tad creepy, yet educational? Tour the Wyoming Frontier Prison, Wyoming’s first state penitentiary. Currently operated as a museum, this impressive stone fortress once housed Wyoming’s most infamous outlaws. Excellent tour guides tell interesting stories of the inmates, prison life and punishment—from hangings to the gas chamber. Daily one hour tours available, stories of the inmates, prison life and punishment—Chopper 1, 2 and 3: Tuesday - Saturday, 10am to 1pm to 5pm.

For an off-the-beaten-path piece of history, visit the Fort Steele State Historic Site. The Fort was built in 1868, on the North Platte River, to protect the men building the Union Pacific Railroad from attacks by Native Americans. There are still many foundations, a few original structures and occasionally trains pass by over the bridge, giving you a sense of life in the past. Open Memorial Day through Labor Day from 9am to 7pm. Directions: From the 1-80 Rest Area, exit 228, follow the paved road 1.5 miles north to the Fort.

The Parco/Sinclair Museum is located inside the Sinclair Town Hall, in a room that was originally the First National Bank of Parco. Collections date back to the 1930’s and feature the founding of the town of Parco (Producers And Refiners Company) and the building of the oil refinery. This company town was purchased by Sinclair Oil in 1935, so there is plenty of Sinclair’s history here as well. Open Monday through Friday, 8am to 12pm and 1pm to 5pm.

DAY 2 - GOLF AND TOUR THE PARCO/SINCLAIR MUSEUM & FORT FRED STEELE HISTORIC SITE

The golf experience in Wyoming is about so much more than great golf. The public courses in Rawlins and Sinclair are certain to challenge your abilities in Wyoming’s weather and terrain.

The Rochelle Ranch Golf Course in Rawlins has quickly become one of the most-talked about golf destinations! This is partly due to the 18-hole, open links-style course that weaves through sagebrush for nearly 8,000 yards. Challenge your skills on well-groomed greens and fairways where you have a good chance of seeing pronghorn antelope right on the course. Excellent views and reasonably priced with on-site restaurant, bar and pro shop.

Not far from Sinclair, the Sinclair Golf Course offers uncrowded, affordable golf for every skill level. Play 9 holes amid a few trees and natural beauty. The course is located roughly 13 miles northeast of Sinclair on the Sinclair Golf Course Road.

After time on the course, swing by Su Casa in Sinclair for an authentic Mexican meal. This local favorite is known for their shrimp fajitas, green chili and sopapillas!

DAY 3 - SEMINOE-ALCOVA BACKCOUNTRY BYWAY SCENIC DRIVE

There’s just something about the wide open spaces of Carbon County. Take your time, explore the stops and absorb the natural scenery of this backcountry drive.

The Seminoe-Alcova Back Country Byway begins just a couple of miles off I-80, north of Sinclair. It follows County Road 351/ Seminoe Road, a paved road, for 64 miles. Highlights of the trip include passing through the remote, red rocky terrain of Carbon County to Seminoe Reservoir, Seminoe State Park, Seminoe Mountains and Miracle Mile (a seven-mile-long blue-ribbon trout fishery on the North Platte River). See SCENIC DRIVES on page 24 for more details.

TIP: The Byway segment beyond Seminoe State Park and through the Seminoe Mountains to the Miracle Mile is very steep, and not recommended for motor homes or vehicles pulling trailers. There are no services along the Byway.

Located 20 miles south of Interstate 80, Saratoga is nestled in a scenic river valley between the Snowy Range and Sierra Madre Mountain Range. This easy-going town also sits atop one of the most active mineral hot springs in Wyoming. Saratoga is treasured by those that love the outdoors. It offers miles of “blue ribbon” trout fishing in the North Platte River and close proximity to mountains for hiking, camping, big game hunting, skiing, snowmobiling, and wildlife viewing.

SARATOGA HISTORY
Native American tribes were the first to discover the healing and relaxation benefits of the natural mineral hot springs, naming them the “Place of Magic Water”. Early explorers, trappers, and traders were the next to arrive. Emigrants soon followed in stagecoaches and wagons along the established trails. Wagon ruts from the Overland Trail, are still visible where the trail crosses Highway 130, north of Saratoga.

Saratoga, originally known as Warm Springs, traces its origins to 1877. It was then that homesteader, William H. Cadwell built a bath house for travelers passing through the area. As word spread, visitors came to soak, eat and stay the night. Hotels were built, including the two-and-one-half story Hotel Wolf. A gathering place for the past 125 years, this landmark in downtown Saratoga offers visitors and locals casual dining in historic ambiance.

The North Platte River has long been prized for it’s excellent trout fishing, solitude and scenic views. More than 65 miles have been designated as a “Blue Ribbon” trout fishery. As one of the few rivers that flow north, it was used during the construction of the Union Pacific Railroad. “Tie hacks” were employed to cut logs/railroad ties from lodgepole pine in the Medicine Bow mountains. During spring runoff, the logs were floated down creeks to the North Platte River, where they drifted in mass to Fort Steele.

Visitors are still drawn to Saratoga as a destination for healing, relaxation and thrilling outdoor adventures. Enjoy the small town atmosphere and endless beauty in a place away from the crowds.

Best Three Day Itinerary

SARATOGA

DAY 1 - SOAK IN SARATOGA’S MINERAL HOT SPRINGS POOLS

Arrive in Saratoga and drop off your bags at your place of accommodation. If arriving between April and September, 48 hours in advance.

Afterward, take a leisurely soak in the Hobo Hot Springs Pools. Free and open to the public 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, these mineral hot spring pools are the ultimate for healthy relaxation. Water temperatures range from 101 to 110 degrees; the Lobster Pot is a steamy 120 degrees. The “Not-So-Hot” Pool offers cooler temperatures. Restrooms, changing, and shower facilities are available on-site.

Next tour the Saratoga Museum which is housed in the 1915 Saratoga-Encampment Railroad Depot. Learn the history of Saratoga and the Upper North Platte River Valley through exhibits that include: minerals and gems ranging from India to Antarctica, hands-on dinosaur poop, a Columbian mammoth tooth, vintage toys, a buffalo kill site and a one-bedroom cabin. The Saratoga Museum is open seasonally from Memorial Day weekend through September, Wednesday through Saturday 10am-4pm and on Sunday’s noon to 4pm.

Then head to downtown Saratoga for it’s unique shops, western stores, art galleries, a personalized fashion experience at Laura M Gallery, ice cream at Lollypop’s and some of the best restaurants in Carbon County. There are so many dining options in Saratoga, you’ll have no trouble finding a great place to eat.

DAY 2 - GUIDED FISHING TRIP OR SCENIC RIVER FLOAT AND GOLF

SEASON: APRIL - SEPTEMBER

One of the best experiences in Carbon County is floating and fishing the Upper North Platte River (a Blue Ribbon Wild Trout Stream with about 3,200 fish per mile) and the Encampment River (for unique trophy trout). Professional area guides offer full-day and half-day float fishing trips. Wade fishing trips are available year round.

If fishing is not your thing, then take a nice relaxing half-day boat ride instead. Enjoy beautiful scenery with views of wildlife and bald eagles.

Afterwards, stretch your legs with a round of golf on the Resort, and sample some locally brewed beer.

DAY 3 - SNOWY RANGE SCENIC DRIVE

SEASON: JUNE - MID-OCTOBER

Have a relaxed breakfast at the Saratoga Sandwich Company or JW Hugus & Company - both are hot spots for locals and visitors alike. After breakfast, pick up some fresh items for a picnic lunch at Valley Foods and Liquors. Then head south to the Snowy Range Scenic Byway turnoff, the Highway 130/230 junction.

The Snowy Range Scenic Byway follows Highway 130 for twenty-nine miles through the center of the Snowy Range in the Medicine Bow National Forest. Typically open Memorial Day through October, weather permitting, this high altitude pass offers easy access to many picnic areas, campgrounds, observation and interpretive sites and a large network of roads and trails. It also showcases some of the most breathtaking and easily accessible peaks in the Rocky Mountains, including famed Medicine Bow Peak at 12,013 feet. See SCENIC DRIVES on page 24-25 for more details.

A Tip: There are several convenient places to stay and eat along Highway 130. See LODGING & DINING GUIDES on page 11.

ADDITIONAL DAY OPTION - HIKE MEDICINE BOW PEAK

SEASON: LATE-JUNE - MID-SEPTEMBER

Medicine Bow Peak is a popular attraction, so start your day early to avoid the crowds. This high elevation trail is strenuous and roughly 5.5 miles one-way. Be prepared for a long and warm hike. Take plenty of drinking water, snacks, good hiking shoes and a hat or a cap to protect you from the sun. It’s best to finish your hike by 3:00 pm as afternoon storms are common and often include lightning strikes.

The Medicine Bow Peak Trail is accessible from the Lake Marie parking lot and the Sugarloaf Recreation Area. If you begin from the Lake Marie parking lot, we recommend capturing some early-morning photos of Lake Marie prior to your hike.

Lake Marie lies below majestic Medicine Bow Peak and is named after Mrs. Mary (Marie) Bellamy. Marie led a successful suffrage drive that resulted in the passage of the 19th Amendment to the United States Constitution. She was also the first woman elected to the Wyoming Legislature in 1910.

The Medicine Bow Peak Trail follows switchbacks and several rock crossings above tree line to the highest point in the Snowy Range at 12,013 feet. Serene and simply breathtaking views are everywhere.

A Tip: Medicine Bow-Routt National Forest Maps are available from the Brush Creek/Hayden Ranger District in Saratoga.
These unhurried small towns share a huge backyard. Located in the beautiful foothills of the Sierra Madre Mountain Range, Encampment and Riverside offer easy access to big outdoor adventures.

Relax and unwind. This lightly visited paradise is the perfect place to fish the trout-filled Encampment River, backpack the Continental Divide, hike pristine wilderness, and hunt for plentiful elk, mule deer and pronghorn antelope.

ENCAMPMENT HISTORY

Camp le Grande—The Grand Encampment was named in 1838 by fur trappers for their mountain trading fair, or Rendezvous, beside the river. The annual Rendezvous attracted mountain men, traders and Native American tribes who passed through and hunted the Sierra Madre Mountain Range. Grand Encampment was later shortened to Encampment.

Copper was discovered in 1897 in the Sierra Madre Mountain Range, just above this quiet settlement. The area boomed with approximately 2,000 residents by 1908. A 16-mile tramway was built to transport copper ore from the Ferris-Haggarty mine, over the Continental Divide (10,690 feet) to a smelter in Riverside. The mine produced more than two million dollars of copper over its ten years of production. A segment of this tramway is on display at the Grand Encampment Museum.

RIVERSIDE HISTORY

Formerly a ranching headquarters on the Encampment River, the town of Doggett was established in 1897 by the Doggett Brothers. As co-owners of a grocery store in Saratoga, the Doggetts expanded their business to the newly platted 13-acre, six block town. Within a year, the town of Doggett included a livery stable, blacksmith shop, grocery store, saloon, restaurant and served as a shipping center for the mines. In 1900, the Riverside Addition was added to the town of Doggett and the town was later renamed Riverside.

Encampment and Riverside host exciting annual events to celebrate their rich history through family activities, old-fashioned melodramas, jamborees and rodeos.
Best Two Day Itinerary

ENCAMPMENT & RIVERSIDE

DAY 1 - GRAND ENCAMPMENT MUSEUM AND SHORT HIKE: INDIAN BATHTUBS TRAIL OR ENCAMPMENT RIVER TRAIL

Get acquainted with southern Carbon County by touring the Grand Encampment Museum, the "GEM" of Southern Wyoming. Here you can walk among 15 historic buildings dating back to the early-1890’s to 1920. Museum highlights include a two-story outhouse, a segment of the aerial mining tramway used to transport copper ore 16 miles, and one of the largest photography collections in the West: the Lora Webb Nichols Collection. The GEM is open seasonally from Memorial Day weekend through early-October, Tuesday through Saturday 9am-5pm and Sundays noon to 4pm.

Next grab some water, snacks and sunscreen for a short hike. Option 1: Indian Bathtubs Trail. The Indian Bathtubs are deep holes in a granite outcrop, formed naturally by snow melt and rainwater. They are said to have been used by Native American tribes—the Ute, Arapaho and Cheyenne—as bathing holes. Access to this natural rock formation is located 5 minutes southeast of Riverside via County Road 211. From the county road, it is approximately 0.75 miles, one-way, on a well-marked dirt trail. A map is available at the Riverside Visitors Center.

Option 2: Encampment River Trail. Named for the river it parallels, this scenic trail is great for out and back hikes and for fishing the shallow riffles and deep pools of the Encampment River. Fishing licenses and supplies are available at the Hwy 230 Junction. Trading Post. As this trail is one-way, consider leaving a vehicle at the Pipeline Trailhead and driving to the Red Mountain Trailhead for 4WD road to the trailhead. Other trails tie into the CDNST, offering additional route options. As this trail is one-way, consider leaving a vehicle at the Pipeline Trailhead and driving to the Red Mountain Trailhead for all-day hike down the Continental Divide.

Get up early for an all-day hike in the Sierra Madre Mountain Range. Start with hearty breakfast at the Beartrap Cafe in Riverside or The Divide in Encampment—both are local favorites.

Approximately 45 miles of the Continental Divide National Scenic Trail (CDNST) straddle the backbone of the Sierra Madre Mountain Range. Entering through Colorado, the CDNST climbs to its highest elevation at Bridger Peak (11,004 ft.) and descends to 8,441 ft. before leaving the forest. There are five points of access to the CDNST in southern Carbon County.

The CDNST - Red Mountain trailhead is located 12 miles west of Encampment, on the south side of Highway 70. This 12-mile segment of the CDNST leads into the Huston Park Wilderness. The trail descends through red granite, wet mountain meadows, mixed conifer and aspen forests before it ends at the Pipeline Trailhead. Other trails tie into the CDNST, offering additional route options. As this trail is one-way, consider leaving a vehicle at the Pipeline Trailhead and driving to the Red Mountain Trailhead for all-day hike down the Continental Divide.

Enjoy a leisurely drive and take in the natural scenic beauty of southern Carbon County. These "off-the-beaten-path" routes are dotted with several attractions and places to wander about.

The Battle Highway, Highway 70, stretches west between the Encampment River Valley and the Little Snake River Valley. Typically open Memorial Day through October, weather permitting, this 28-mile paved route is simply beautiful. It passes over the crest of the Sierra Madre Mountain Range at 9,955 feet and crosses the Continental Divide. Along the way, there are several recommended stops of historic and natural interest. See SCENIC DRIVES on pages 24 for more details.

The Sierra Madre Scenic Loop Tour is one of the best backroads in Carbon County. Beginning and ending in Encampment, this route highlights historic sights and some of the best places to stop for hikes and fishing in southern Carbon County. See SCENIC DRIVES on pages 25 for more details.

ADDITIONAL DAY OPTION - HIKE THE CONTINENTAL DIVIDE NATIONAL SCENIC TRAIL OR THE GREEN MOUNTAIN FALLS TRAIL

SEASON: JUNE - MID-OCTOBER

Get up early for an all-day hike in the Sierra Madre Mountain Range. Start with hearty breakfast at the Beartrap Cafe in Riverside or The Divide in Encampment—both are local favorites.

The CDNST - Red Mountain trailhead is located 12 miles west of Encampment, on the south side of Highway 70. This 12-mile segment of the CDNST leads into the Huston Park Wilderness. The trail descends through red granite, wet mountain meadows, mixed conifer and aspen forests before it ends at the Pipeline Trailhead. Other trails tie into the CDNST, offering additional route options. As this trail is one-way, consider leaving a vehicle at the Pipeline Trailhead and driving to the Red Mountain Trailhead for all-day hike down the Continental Divide.

The Green Mountain Falls trail parallels the furious rush of the North Fork of the Encampment River and gently climbs to a spectacular descent of water crashing over large boulders. The hike is approximately 4 miles, one-way, through a mix of conifer and aspen trees. The first two miles of the hike follow a rough 4WD road to the trailhead. The path then becomes a well-marked hiking trail that leads to the Huston Park Wilderness boundary and finally, the Green Mountain Falls. Directions: Drive west of Encampment for 6 miles on Highway 70. Turn left onto NFSR 550. Continue driving for another 2 miles until you reach NFSR 550.2H. There is a small parking area there.

TIP: Medicine Bow-Routt National Forest Maps are available from the Brush Creek/Nayden Ranger District Office in Saratoga.

The Battle Highway, Highway 70, stretches west between the Encampment River Valley and the Little Snake River Valley. Typically open Memorial Day through October, weather permitting, this 28-mile paved route is simply beautiful. It passes over the crest of the Sierra Madre Mountain Range at 9,955 feet and crosses the Continental Divide. Along the way, there are several recommended stops of historic and natural interest. See SCENIC DRIVES on pages 24 for more details.

The Sierra Madre Scenic Loop Tour is one of the best backroads in Carbon County. Beginning and ending in Encampment, this route highlights historic sights and some of the best places to stop for hikes and fishing in southern Carbon County. See SCENIC DRIVES on pages 25 for more details.
There is no shortage of pronghorn antelope in the spacious sagebrush flats surrounding Medicine Bow and Hanna. Stop and smell the sagebrush.

Elk Mountain, a northern gateway to the Snowy Range, is located along Interstate 80. Peaceful and picturesque, it is ideal for outdoor getaways and adventures.

MEDICINE BOW HISTORY

Medicine Bow was founded in 1868 as a Union Pacific watering station along the Medicine Bow River. Watering stations were important in a time when steam locomotives used thousands of gallons of water to go relatively short distances. These stations often became local supply depots and trading posts.

"When you call me that, smile!" Built in 1911, the three-story Virginian Hotel takes its name from Owen Wister's famous novel. At the time, it was the largest hotel between Denver and Salt Lake City and a regular gathering place for travelers, local ranchers and railroad men. This historic hotel, built nearly a century ago, still operates as hotel and restaurant, with one of the finest old-time western bars in Wyoming.

HANNA HISTORY

Hanna was founded in 1890 as a company town for the Union Pacific Coal Company. The mines operated in one of Wyoming's largest and richest coalfields through 1954. Hanna's mining boom ended much as other mining camps of the era up and down for decades, until only a few hundred residents remained. The disastrous explosions in 1903 and 1908 took the lives of 228 local miners. There are three monuments in Hanna dedicated to those who lost their lives in the Carbon and Hanna coalmines.

ELK MOUNTAIN HISTORY

Elk Mountain is located at the base of its 11,156-foot namesake. It was founded as a stage stop on the Overland Trail, where immigrants and stage travelers could safely cross the Medicine Bow River. In 1862, Fort Halleck was built a few miles west of Elk Mountain. It served to protect travelers passing through this region for four years.

In 1905, the Elk Mountain Hotel was built on the property previously used by the Overland Stage Station. The building's architecture is Folk Victorian style, reminiscent of what was found on the frontier during that time. Next to the Hotel stood the Garden Spot Pavilion, which was host to such notable entertainers as Louis Armstrong, Tommy Dorsey, Glenn Miller, and Lawrence Welk. These entertainers inspired hundreds to "jump on and ride" the Garden Spot's magical dance floor. The historic hotel remains a perfect venue for weddings and social gatherings, lodging and dining.
DAY 1 - HANNA BASIN MUSEUM, MEDICINE BOW MUSEUM & THE VIRGINIAN HOTEL

Experience quaint towns along the old Lincoln Highway (Highway 30) with must-see museums and a historic hotel.

The Hanna Basin Museum represents more than 134 years of underground coal mining in the Carbon and Hanna Basins. Learn the origins of this company mining town and that of the ghost town of Carbon—an early mining community on the original line of the Union Pacific Railway whose population was once 1,140 people. Impressive collections and artifacts include an original Union Pacific Coal Company house, the oldest church bell in Wyoming (1870), artwork depicting ranch and homestead life, a tribute to residents, and many historic photographs. Open Friday - Sunday, 1pm to 5pm.

The Medicine Bow Museum is housed in the 1913 Union Pacific Railroad depot. Get a sense of the Old West through the ranching and homesteading antiques and railroad memorabilia that inspired the classic western, "The Virginian" by Owen Wister. The museum grounds also house the Owen Wister Cabin and Monument, an original Union Pacific caboose--that you can actually walk inside, a sheepherder's wagon, and a collection of local cattle and sheep brands. Open Memorial Day - Labor Day, Monday - Friday 8am to 5pm; weekends and holidays 9am to 5pm.

The Historic Virginian Hotel, built in 1911, derives its name from the classic western novel by Owen Wister. For wild west fans, this 3-story hotel (with saloon, cafe, and pool table) will have you feeling like you stepped back in time. Hotel rooms are adorned in old-fashioned wallpaper, with beautiful antique furniture and vintage curtains; the meals are hearty, western saloon fare. Located across from the railroad on the Old Lincoln Highway 30, the Virginian Hotel offers a full menu for breakfast, lunch and dinner.

ADDITIONAL DAY 2 - FISH THE WORLD FAMOUS MIRACLE MILE OR THE MEDICINE BOW RIVER

The Miracle Mile is a 7-mile stretch of the North Platte River between the Kortes Dam and Pathfinder Reservoir. Trophy-sized rainbow and brown trout caught here weigh 5 to 10 pounds. See driving directions from Hanna and more details on page 25.

The Medicine Bow River flows north from it's source in the Medicine Bow National Forest, through the town of Elk Mountain and the Medicine Bow valley, before it merges northwest of Hanna into the Medicine Bow Arm of Seminoe Reservoir. Fish for good-sized brookies higher up on the forest. Large brown and rainbow trout are more common downstream.

ELK MOUNTAIN

DAY 1 - ELK MOUNTAIN MUSEUM, HISTORIC ELK MOUNTAIN HOTEL & PASS CREEK

The Historic Elk Mountain Hotel has been restored to Victorian era styling, with individually decorated bedrooms appointed with period antiques. Built in 1905, this historic property is more spacious than a bed and breakfast and more relaxing than a large hotel. The Crossing Café at the Elk Mountain Trading Company serves up delicious meals for breakfast, lunch, and dinner.

The Elk Mountain Museum, located at 105 Bridge Street, features artifacts from the Garden Spot Pavilion and the Historic Elk Mountain Hotel and memorabilia dating back to the early 1900's from local ranches. Open seasonally Memorial Day through Labor Day, Wednesday from 1pm to 7pm, Friday and Saturday 10am - 5pm and by appointment at 307-348-7037.

Take a beautiful drive and see stunning vistas teeming with wildlife along the Pass Creek Road. Approximately 40 miles to Saratoga, it follows Pass Creek, winding between Elk Mountain and Coad Mountain, through willow bottoms and open sagebrush.

ADDITIONAL DAY 2 - FISH TURPIN RESERVOIR

Turpin Reservoir is located 20 miles south of Elk Mountain in the Medicine Bow National Forest. It is stocked with brook trout and splake (a hybrid between a brook trout and lake trout) and is surrounded in beautiful mountain scenery.

A short distance below the reservoir, the road drops down along Turpin Creek and passes by remnant tie hack cabins. Stop and explore the meadow, you may even hear chorus frogs in the creek.

Directions: Travel County Road 101 for 13.5 miles. At NF SR 100, turn right and follow past the Bow River Campground for 6 miles. Turpin Reservoir and the boat ramp is on the left side of the road.

The Little Snake River Valley was a good place to settle for its access to water, abundance of wild game, impressive scenery and agricultural opportunities. This remote area offered some of the best-known hideouts for outlaws too.

BAGGS HISTORY

Located three miles north of the Colorado state line and east of the Red Desert, Baggs was a perfect hideout for bandits outrunning the law. Butch Cassidy and his infamous Wild Bunch, "hied-up" in this rough and tumble outpost. The Gaddis Mathews House was a known hang-out for Butch and the gang.

DIXON HISTORY

Wyoming was only a territory when the town of Dixon was incorporated in July 1887. Dixon is named for Bob Dixon who was one of the regions first fur trappers, along with Jim Baker. Built in 1911, the Dixon Club has been a longtime watering hole for weary travelers passing through the valley. Its walls are covered with antiques and mementos of the area. Dixon is also home to the annual Little Snake River Rodeo. This small town rodeo and Saturday night dance offer plenty of action and family fun.

SAVERY HISTORY

Originally the Savery School, Little Snake River Museum houses several exhibits from the Valley's past, as well as buildings that reflect the history of the community.

ADDITIONAL DAY OPTION - EXPLORE THE RED DESERT AND SEE WILD HORSES

Southern Wyoming's Red Desert is one of the most spectacular, yet often missed, attractions in Carbon County. Located west of Baggs, between the Wyoming/Colorado border and Interstate 80, the Red Desert is a labyrinth of canyons, hoodoos, mesas, and dunes. And it is home to the largest remaining wild horse herd in Wyoming.

TIP: The Red Desert is best explored by an ATV or a sturdy, high-clearance, off-road 4WD vehicle and on foot. There are lots of roads, but they are confusing, unmarked and rough. You will definitely want to bring BLM maps, a GPS unit, and lots of water.
BATTLE HIGHWAY SCENIC BYWAY

Length: 28 miles via Highway 70

Open Memorial Day through October, weather permitting

Named for a famous battle between Native Americans and fur trappers in 1841, the Battle Highway stretches over the crest of the Sierra Madre Mountain Range, between Encampment and Baggs. While there are many scenic highlights along the route, it also features two spectacular museums, ghost towns from the mining era, historic sites, and crosses the Continental Divide.

- Grand Encampment Museum in Encampment: features aerial mining tramway segment and 15 historic buildings from the copper boom era. See page 16 for more information.
- Battle: located on the Continental Divide, it is one of many mining ghost towns in the Sierra Madre Mountain Range.
- Battle Pass Summit, 9,955 ft: on the Continental Divide, provides a sweeping view of the Sierra Madre Mountain Range.
- Battle Lake and Thomas A. Edison monument: While vacationing here in 1878, Edison threw a broken bamboo fishing pole in the fire and was intrigued by the way the frayed pieces glowed. This observation led Edison to the discovery of filament for the incandescent electric lamp.
- Aspen Alley: a natural canopy of aspen trees, just north of the Highway on NFSR 801. Particularly beautiful in the fall.
- Little Snake River Valley Museum in Savery: features over 15 historic buildings, including Jim Baker’s cabin, built in 1873. See page 23 for more information.

SNOWY RANGE SCENIC BYWAY

Length: 29 miles via Highway 130

Open Memorial Day through October, weather permitting

This high altitude drive showcases some of the most spectacular and easily accessible peaks in Medicine Bow National Forest. Highway 130 runs between the Highway 130/230 junction (8 miles south of Saratoga) and Centennial. After crossing the North Platte River, it ascends to it's highest point at 10,847 feet before meandering toward Centennial. Picnic areas, campgrounds, alpine lakes, a network of hiking trails and several scenic overlooks are accessible from the Highway—plus unforgettable views and plenty of wildlife sightings. Highlights include:

- Medicine Bow Peak, 12,013 ft: the highest peak in southern Wyoming. A 5.5-mile hike to the top features switch-backs, rock crossings and amazing views. See page 13 for more details.
- Lake Marie: popular lake named after Mary (Marie) Bellamy who led a suffrage drive for the adoption of 19th Amendment which gave women the right to vote.
- Libby Flats Observation Point: the highest point on the Highway.
- P. O. W. Camp at the Ryan Park Campground: originally a Civilian Conservation Corps camp, it later served as a P.O.W. Camp for German and Italian soldiers during WWII.

SEMINOE-ALCOVA BACK COUNTRY BYWAY

Length: 64 miles via County Road 351

Located between Sinclair and Alcova, this remote drive climbs over the rugged Seminole Mountains before passing into antelope-grazed prairie and stark desert. The amazing transformations in the landscape are worth the backcountry journey. On your trip, you might see a variety of wildlife such as mule deer, pronghorn antelope, bighorn sheep, golden and bald eagles, and ferruginous hawks. Attractions along the way include:

- Seminole Reservoir: popular for trout and walleye fishing, boating, water skiing, and wildlife viewing. See more on page 25.
- Miracle Mile: a 7-mile stretch of the North Platte River, famous for huge trout and great fly fishing. See page 25 for more details.
- Seminole State Park: popular for access to Seminole Reservoir, with camping and picnicking among giant white sand dunes.

SIERRA MADRE SCENIC LOOP

Length: 58 miles via Highway 70, and Forest Service Roads 550, 496 & 409

Open Memorial Day through October, weather permitting

Set in a quiet corner of southern Carbon County, this drive makes a loop through the Sierra Madre Mountain Range on well-maintained gravel roads. Beginning in Encampment, follow Highway 70 west for 6 miles to NFSR 550. Turn left and travel south for 16 miles. At Hog Park Reservoir, merge left, the road becomes NFSR 496. Continue 10 miles south and turn left to follow NFSR 496 north for 12.5 miles to NFSR 409 (the Blackhall Road). Turn left and travel north 11 miles and turn left onto Highway 230. The loop ends in 2 miles at Riverside. Along the way, enjoy several stops of historical and natural interest.

- Halfway House: built in 1902, as a stopping point between Encampment and the mining camps in the Hog Park area.
- Hog Park Reservoir: formed in the 1960's when an earthen dam was constructed to store water for municipal use in Cheyenne. It is a favorite spot for fishing and boating.
- East Fork Trail Access: follows East Fork of the Encampment River, with several remnant mining cabins.
- Billie Creek Junction (NFSR 496 & 409): road forks left back to Riverside; right provides access to the Blackhall Mountain Fire Lookout Tower, 4WD recommended.
- Indian Bathtubs: a natural rock formation believed to be used by Native Americans for bathing. See page 16 for more information.
This Rocky Mountain paradise offers an impressive range of landscapes and activities. So pack up the tackle-box and picnic basket and get ready for a little one-on-one time with nature.

FISHING

Come cast your line in Carbon County! It's the only area in Wyoming that offers such variety in fishing opportunities. From beautiful rivers and large reservoirs to alpine lakes and streams, the clear, cold water here is the perfect habitat for trout. Area waters contain “blue ribbon” wild brown and rainbow trout, walleye, tiger, brook, brown, rainbow, splake, golden and cutthroat trout, and kokanee salmon. Fish to your heart's content in spectacular scenery without the crowds.

Upper North Platte River features “blue ribbon” wild trout fishing and is popular for floating and kayaking. Beginning in Colorado, this pristine freestone river flows north through mountain wilderness, the Saratoga valley hay meadows, and finally through majestic desert before leaving Carbon County. As the “Premier Blue Ribbon Wild Trout Stream in Wyoming, the North Platte claims 4,000 catchable fish per mile. There are several public river access points between Colorado and the Miracle Mile.

Encampment River flows north into Wyoming through the rugged Encampment River Wilderness in the Sierra Madre Mountain Range. It winds northwest through the town of Riverside before merging with the North Platte River. Also a “blue ribbon” trout stream, the river has three public river access points.

These prominent reservoirs and lakes in Carbon County offer miles of great shoreline fishing and are excellent boating spots.

- Seminoe Reservoir: of all the places in Wyoming where walleye are found, they are most abundant here. Seminoe also offers great fishing for rainbow, brown and cutthroat trout, with 180 miles of shoreline. Seminoe State Park, located 30 miles north of Sinclair on County Road 351, has several campsites, potable water, restrooms, boat ramps, picnic shelters and access to the largest sandy beach in Wyoming.

- High Savery Reservoir: located 38 miles south of Rawlins on County Road 401, it is the only place in Wyoming to catch tiger trout (brown trout/brook trout cross). Brook and rainbow trout, Colorado River cutthroat and Kokanee salmon are also plentiful here. Not much shoreline, but there is a boat ramp.

- Hog Park Reservoir: excellent fishing for brook, rainbow and cutthroat trout. There is a 50-site campground and two picnic areas, drinking water and plenty of shoreline fishing. From Encampment, travel west on Highway 70 for 6 miles. Turn left on NFSR 550 and travel south about 16 miles. The campground and boat dock is 3 miles ahead on NFSR 496.

- Saratoga Lake: located a few miles north of Saratoga, it offers good fishing for rainbow and brown trout. There is a 50-site campground, boat dock and restrooms. Nearby wetlands are home to hundreds of species of birds.

HIKING

Carbon County has thousands of acres of public land spanning diverse ecosystems. These lands offer a lifetime of exploring and adventure.

There are over 50 designated hiking trails in the Snowy Range and Sierra Madre Mountain Range of the Medicine Bow National Forest. Trails range from 7,400 ft. to 11,200 ft. in elevation and offer a variety of hiking experiences. Our favorite day hikes are outlined in the itinerary pages of this guide. However, there is one epic hike featured on the next page: The Continental Divide Trail.
HIKING AND MOUNTAIN BIKING THE CONTINENTAL DIVIDE TRAIL

Approximately 125 miles of the Continental Divide National Scenic Trail (CDNST) pass through Carbon County. For those who relish the experience of traveling along the spine of the Rocky Mountains and through the Great Divide Basin, this is the place. The terrain is wonderfully diverse and scenic views are breathtaking and endless. Hiking, mountain biking, horseback riding and motor vehicle use are allowed on the majority of the trail. However there are a few segments that are unavailable to motorists.

From south to north, the trail enters Wyoming through the Sierra Madre Mountain Range and the tranquil Huston Park Wilderness. Please note that motorized vehicles and mountain bikes are not allowed in wilderness areas. An alternate route is available utilizing forest roads. The trail then crosses the Battle Pass Scenic Highway (Highway 70) and climbs to 11,004 feet at Divide Peak before leaving the forest. It then descends 3,500 feet through sagebrush prairie as it reaches the city of Rawlins.

Rawlins, a Continental Divide Gateway Community, is located at the southeastern edge of the Great Divide Basin. Rawlins is a great place to refresh and refuel before continuing your journey. The CDNST passes directly through Rawlins, offering opportunities to shop, dine and stroll through Historic Downtown Rawlins. Public restrooms are available downtown and at the Memorial Sports Complex.

From Rawlins, the trail follows Highway 287 north and descends 3,500 feet through sagebrush prairie as it reaches downtown and at the Memorial Sports Complex. Cell phone service ranges from limited to non-existent in remote areas. And there are no taxi or Uber services available if you get tired of hiking. Plan ahead and download the Carbon County Interactive Map at https://www.avenzamaps.com/maps/817356/carbon-county-trails prior to your trip. A handheld GPS navigation system is handy.

GREAT DIVIDE BASIN

In North America, river systems west of the Continental Divide flow into the Pacific Ocean and river systems east of the Continental Divide flow into the Atlantic Ocean. That is, except in the Great Divide Basin which lies just west of Rawlins. Water that flows into this vast high desert either evaporates or soaks into the earth, but does not drain to either ocean.

The Great Divide Basin encompasses 778,792 acres of public, private, and state land. Closest inspection of this seemingly barren landscape reveals a variety of mountains, badlands, and sand dunes. Wild horses, over 50,000 pronghorn antelope, a rare desert elk herd and the greater sage grouse are among the wild animals that call this rich high desert landscape their home.

SNOWMOBILING

SEASON: DECEMBER - APRIL

Carbon County has some of the best snowmobiling in Wyoming. Explore over 500 miles of groomed and ungroomed trails with terrain to excite users of all skill levels.

The Snowy Range is the largest and most developed snowmobile area in Carbon County, with 306 miles of groomed trails and 170 miles of ungroomed trails. It’s also the home of the “Widow Maker” (11,330 feet), one of Wyoming’s most extreme snowmobile trails. The terrain is varied with plenty of play areas, hills and deep champagne powder. Snow depths reach up to 12 feet.

The Sierra Madre Mountain Range is relatively uncrowded and offers a series of trail loops with outstanding views. There are 110 miles of groomed and 50 miles of ungroomed trails and two trailheads/parking lots. The Bottle Creek trailhead/parking area is located on Highway 70, six miles west of Encampment. The Stamp Springs trailhead/parking area is located 16 miles east of Savery. Snow depths reach up to 8 feet.

CROSS-COUNTY SKIING & SNOWSHOEING

SEASON: DECEMBER - APRIL

Whether novice or expert, the beautiful, groomed trails in the Snowy Range and Sierra Madre Mountain Range provide plenty of solitude in diverse terrain.

The Bottle Creek Trails are located 6 miles west of Encampment on Highway 70 in the Sierra Madre Mountain Range. Several loop trails wind through aspen, lodgepole pine stands, and regenerating tree harvest areas.

The Brush Creek Trails are accessed from Highway 130 in the Snowy Range, behind the Brush Creek Visitor Center. The trail system winds through aspen, lodgepole pine stands, and by a remnant tie hack cabin. Restroom facilities are available.

For the more adventurous skiers or snowshoers, there’s a lot of backcountry to explore in both mountain ranges.
Experience genuine western hospitality, ride horses, and enjoy family-style dining and sporting opportunities at ranch getaways in Carbon County. From luxury to laid-back, the guest ranches featured here are the perfect place to host corporate retreats, enjoy family reunions, celebrate weddings, or simply unwind.

A BAR A RANCH
Located along the banks of the Upper North Platte River, on the southwestern edge of the Snowy Range, the A Bar A is one of the oldest guest ranches in the country. It has operated as a guest and cattle ranch since the early 1920s. With nearly 100,000 acres for guests to explore, the A Bar A features unforgettable horseback riding, fly fishing, hiking, archery/shooting ranges and children's programs.

Three guest houses and sixteen historic cabins are surrounded by the natural beauty of the North Platte River Valley. Anglers have access to 32 miles of blue-ribbon private water and exceptional fly-fishing conditions.
